Book Publication

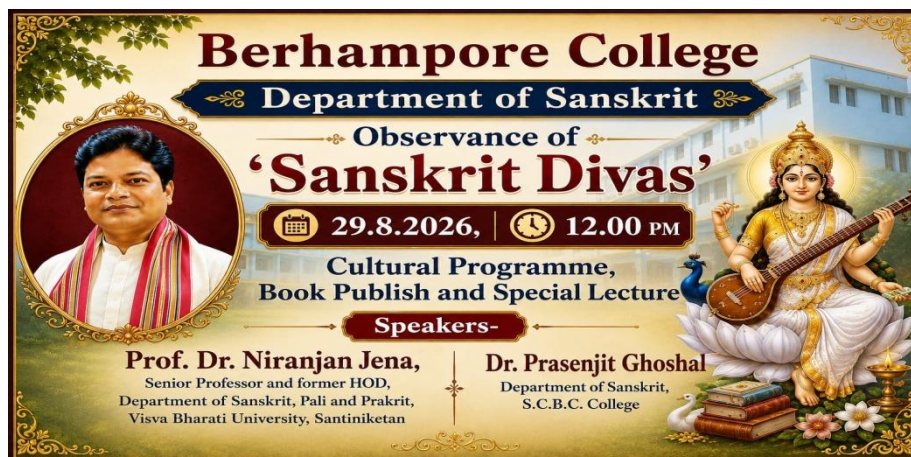

The programme also included a book publication segment, which added an important academic dimension to the Sanskrit Divas celebration. The publication activity reflected the Department's commitment to promoting scholarly and creative engagement in the field of Sanskrit and related areas.

Special Lecture

The programme was enriched by the presence of eminent scholars. Prof. Dr. Niranjana Jena, Senior Professor and former Head of the Department of Sanskrit, Pali and Prakrit, Visva-Bharati University, Santiniketan, participated as the principal speaker. His presence added considerable academic significance to the occasion.

Dr. Prasenjit Ghoshal of the Department of Sanskrit, S.C.B.C. College, also addressed the gathering. The participation of distinguished scholars provided students with an opportunity to engage with contemporary academic perspectives relating to Sanskrit studies.

Special Academic Session

The special lecture session formed one of the प्रमुख academic components of the programme. The invited our former students discussed the importance of Sanskrit as a repository of knowledge and highlighted the relevance of Sanskrit studies in the modern academic world. The lectures encouraged students to look beyond the conventional perception of Sanskrit as merely an ancient language and to recognize its continuing relevance in interdisciplinary research, Indian Knowledge Systems and contemporary intellectual discourse.

They are-

1. Nayan Mandal
2. Swarup Ghosh
3. Rahul Mondal
4. Animesh Ghosh
5. Manisha Singha and others

Outcome of the Programme

- Enhanced awareness among students regarding the importance and contemporary relevance of Sanskrit.
- Provided direct academic interaction with distinguished scholars.
- Encouraged students to participate in cultural and literary activities.
- Strengthened the academic and cultural environment of the Department of Sanskrit.
- Promoted greater interest in Sanskrit studies, research and Indian Knowledge traditions.

Conclusion

The Observance of Sanskrit Divas – 2026 was a significant academic and cultural initiative of the Department of Sanskrit, Berhampore College. The combination of scholarly lectures, cultural activities and book publication made the programme intellectually enriching and memorable. The enthusiastic participation of students and the valuable contribution of the invited speakers contributed greatly to the success of the event.

The Department of Sanskrit sincerely expresses its gratitude to the Hon'ble Principal, Berhampore College, for his constant encouragement and support in organizing such meaningful academic and cultural programmes.
