Aims and objectives of this programme:

Aims of the Programme

- To promote awareness on women's empowerment and gender equality in society.
- To highlight the legal framework and judicial interpretations regarding dowry-related offences through recent Supreme Court of India verdicts.

- To sensitize students about women's rights, safety, and social justice issues.
- To encourage critical understanding of laws related to domestic violence and dowry among learners.
- To bridge the gap between legal knowledge and social awareness through expert lecture.
- To honour and recognise individuals contributing to society through the NSS Unit initiative.
- To strengthen social responsibility and ethical values among students of Berhampore College.

Objectives of the Programme

- To create awareness regarding women's empowerment and gender equality.
- To discuss recent Supreme Court verdicts related to dowry offences and women's rights.
- To educate students about legal protections available for women in India.
- To promote gender sensitisation and social responsibility among students.
- To recognise and honour individuals contributing to society through public service.

Outcomes of the Programme

- Participants gained awareness regarding legal rights and recent judicial interpretations concerning dowry-related offences.
- Students developed a deeper understanding of gender equality and women's empowerment.
- The seminar encouraged critical discussion on social issues and legal reforms.
- The felicitation programme inspired students to respect social contributors and community workers. (A special attraction of the programme was the felicitation ceremony organised by the NSS Unit of the college. In recognition of their social contribution and dedication to public service, Toto driver Kajal Roy, Sonali Jana, Radharani Das, and Jogmaya Das were felicitated with tokens of appreciation.)
- The event strengthened the culture of social awareness and civic responsibility within the college community.

The programme concluded with a vote of thanks expressing gratitude to the speaker, dignitaries, organisers, NSS Unit members, participants, and students for their enthusiastic cooperation and active participation in making the seminar successful.
